

COLLABORATIONS

HOUSE & GARDEN

bobokids

Bobo Kids is a specialist kids interiors shop in the heart of Chelsea Green. This month it hosts the first in a series of exhibitions, starting with the French street artist, Yann Sciberras (until 31 July). His groovy, street style is just the thing to pep up a hip teenage bedroom or an urban nursery, and mixes fantasy with words and slogans.

The shop is an excellent source of stylish kids' furniture, homewares and artwork, and there is a full interior design service.

Find Bobo Kids at 29 Elystan Street, Chelsea Green, SW3 3NT, bobokids.co.uk

By Judith Wilson.

The artist Yann Sciberras has created 13 paintings commissioned by BOBO KIDS on childhood themes, whose collectors include David Beckham, Claudia Schiffer...

house&garden

Take a tour
The brand new Susan Stowell, Academy of Interior Design is based in Chelsea, and from September will be running short courses and workshops in interior design. For summer, these are accompanied by tips to sites of notable architectural interest and a special private viewing of Langham House, in Holland Park, take place on 15 June. The day costs £34, to book visit www.susanstowell.com

Interiors news
by Judith Wilson

Bespoke services
The Natural Curtain Company offers a modern-measure curtain service, and its well-developed website makes ordering very simple. There's a vast choice of fabrics, from neutral tones to vibrant linear prints, headings, fringe, pleat poles and tracks, and they will also make up curtains in the customer's own fabric. For the summer, we love the sheer-look panel curtains in timber (150 x 200cm) from £231. For details, naturalcurtaincompany.co.uk, 0845 5000 420

In the know showroom
The US-based company Ann Sacks recently opened its new Chelsea Harbour Design Centre showroom. Ann Sacks specialises in innovative, luxury tile, stone and plumbing products, and throughout the 353-square metres of showroom, there are plenty of practical, flexible settings. If you're looking for flooring options, there are over 109 different floorpods showing off examples of concrete and ceramic tiles, as well as mosaics. The showroom strikes a good balance between contemporary and classic – it's a match for anyone planning a new bathroom.
Ann Sacks, 115/116 Chelsea Design Centre, SW10 0SE
020 3052 0802, annsacks.com

This month you should...
...summer to summer with the just-bounced Coast ball from The Line Works. The perfect shade of dusky pink, the sheets are 100 per cent linen, and pre-washed for a relaxed look. The design has a subtle herringbone, however, pillowcase (£22), and single duvet (£105). thelineworks.co.uk – new from July. Pick up the Best Balls! It features a cool-inspired base with a shagreen or cork top from £850, shagreenballs.com – cool and chic for a summer sitting room, we love the new Trainer sofa (above), with a contemporary bench-style seat (£2385). wesley-barnett.co.uk

Get inspired
Bobo Kids is a specialist kids interiors shop in the heart of Chelsea Green. This month it hosts the first in a series of exhibitions, starting with the French street artist, Yann Sciberras (until 31 July). His groovy, street style is just the thing to pep up a hip teenage bedroom or an urban nursery, and mixes fantasy with words and slogans. The shop is an excellent source of stylish kids' furniture, homewares and artwork, and there is a full interior design service. Find Bobo Kids at 29 Elystan Street, Chelsea Green, SW3 3NT, bobokids.co.uk

